Dear Mr. Horan:

The measurements called for in the Cs 137 intercomparison program have been completed. The ad hoc advisory committee is reviewing the results so that a report can be prepared and distributed to the participating groups. Publication of a version of the report is contemplated.

The committee would like to include a summary of the reactions to this program and would, therefore, appreciate constructive comments on various aspects, such as:

1. The features of the program which are thought to have been a contribution to your laboratory.
2. The features which seemed to be unnecessary and unproductive.
3. The features which were omitted and which might have been II Rod study profitable, if included.
4. Any additional remarks.

The committee desires to recognize the cooperation of the groups which participated. The proposal is to list the laboratories in an appendix without indicating any relationship to performance or results obtained. Please indicate whether you are willing to have your laboratory included in such a list. yes

There is reason to believe that the manuscript of the report will be completed by June 1966, possibly earlier. The committee intends to supply each laboratory with a summary statement of results by early spring.

In order to expedite the final preparation of the report an early response from you is needed. If at all possible, please send me the requested information by 14 February 1966.

Although the intercomparison exercise has extended over a longer period than was anticipated, it appears that very interesting results have been obtained and your cooperation has contributed largely to this desirable situation. Your continued cooperation is appreciated.

My kindest regards.

Very truly yours,
